Lobetia

ABOUT LOBETIA SAUVIGNON BLANC

Lobetia gets its name from the Lobetani, an ancient pre-Roman people of Spain, and reflects the tradition and heritage of the land. This is a 100% Sauvignon Blanc, made using grapes that are night-harvested, ensuring that they retain their optimal level of freshness and acidity. Although this grape variety has been widely planted, what makes Lobetia's Sauvignon Blanc stand out is its remarkable ability to adapt to the unique climate of Punctum's terroir. This region's temperature fluctuations between day and night facilitate the slow ripening of the grapes, resulting in a complex range of flavors.

TASTING NOTES

Beautiful golden hue and a distinct citrus aroma that is accompanied by herbaceous notes. The wine is light-bodied and offers a crispy acidity that accentuates its elegant minerality, which lingers on the palate after each sip.

SOIL

Our vineyard is situated in the province of Cuenca, central Spain, an area with a longstanding wine culture. At 800 meters above sea level, it benefits from abundant sunlight and the clay soil helps retain essential moisture for the vines.
